

More Than 1,000 Persons Here Favor Plan for Church Union

A plea for a united church of America won strong support among an audience of some 1,000 persons who packed to overflow the Grace Methodist Church Sunday afternoon to hear a talk by one of its outstanding proponents, Dr. E. Stanley Jones.

Following a talk which Dr. Jones is giving throughout the nation, a vote of the assemblage was taken and only two persons registered votes against the establishment of a united church.

This evidence of support was no surprise to Dr. Jones, who has met with almost unanimous approval everywhere in the United States his proposal of establishing a united church along the same lines as our federal government.

Dr. Jones envisions the challenging aspect of a world assembly "that could speak and act for 737,000,000 Christians."

"We could go anywhere," the speaker declared to an audience that sat almost enthralled, listening to this dramatic proposal and reveling at the delivery of the white-haired evangelist, who is stirring the nation.

The speaker told his audience that because of the unanimous support the Ohio Pastors Conference, largest in the United States, has given church union "Ohio, I believe, will be the first state that is ready."

But whether church union is achieved will have to depend on a mandate of the people, Dr. Jones told the group.

One Church Proposed

In brief, his proposal calls for the establishment of one church in America.

"It could be called the Church of Christ of America," he said. Branches of the one church would have their local self government and "surrender their sovereignty to nothing but themselves," he added.

In other words, under his proposed plan churches now in existence would continue to function, following their own beliefs. They would retain title to their

Lung Operation Is Performed on King of England

'Spirits Are Good,'
Doctors Say—People
Pray for Recovery

LONDON, Sept. 24.—(P)—King George VI was reported in good spirits today and confident of recovery from a major lung operation.

A palace spokesman said Queen Elizabeth spent the morning with her husband, but no other members of the royal family have been permitted to see him.

The spokesman was much more cheery than an earlier medical bulletin which merely reported the king's condition was "as satisfactory as can be expected."

He told a reporter: "The king is in good spirits, as far as one can be after an operation like this. He seems confident of his recovery."

A morning medical bulletin said the king "has had a restful night." It came after a Buckingham Palace source had reported the king "made it safely" through the first crucial night after his operation yesterday morning.

Anxious Britons Pray

Anxious Britons, who had prayed for the safety of their beloved monarch, got no indication of the king's exact condition in his battle against the after-effects of the surgery.

The announcement was signed by five doctors who had spent the night at the king's bedside.

The waiting crowd in front of Buckingham Palace found its terms reassuring:

"Thank God for that!" one woman shouted.

"We're so glad for the queen," said another.

A tall police inspector read the bulletin aloud over the heads of the jostling throng. People then lined up and filed slowly past for a first-hand look.

Persons familiar with the wording of official royal announcements said the terse statement indicated there has been no turn for the worse, but that the king's condition is still serious. They found no evidence of any immediate medical concern.

Royal Family Near

Queen Elizabeth spent the night in a room near her desperately ill husband. The rest of the royal family was also nearby, Queen

Masked Gang Holds Up Bank

WALTHAM, Mass., Sept. 24.—(P)—A Halloween-masked, four-man holdup gang led by a man armed with a tommy-gun, robbed the west end branch of the New-ton-Waltham Bank & Trust Company of more than $25,000 in cash. The holdup was the third of a Boston suburban bank within two months.

Leaving one of their number at the wheel of a 1941 model blue or black sedan, the other three burst into the bank just ten minutes after its 8 A. M. opening time. Bank employees and one patron said the three looked and acted "like kids" in their masks and rough clothing—resembling marine corps work clothes.

But the leader was "quite a large man" and he brandished a tommy gun in a menacing sweep, while his companions, one of whom was "a little fellow," carried what appeared to be .45 caliber pistols.

The son's belated statements helped to clear an air of mystery that had surrounded the case since Mrs. Miles' condition became serious weeks ago.

Persons represented as doctors and nurses in the home had verified young Miles' original story. His father, Detroit architect Francis Allen Miles, was reported in seclusion today.

Young Miles said today death was caused by purpura anemia—a weakening of the blood vessels. But he said the doctors had changed their original story that the anemia was caused by over-dieting. The doctors were not available for comment.

Russia Has H-bomb Now, Tip

LONDON, Sept. 24.—(P)—The editor of a British intelligence tip service said today Russia plans to explode a hydrogen bomb next July.

Kenneth De Courcy, editor of the pamphlet-sized "Intelligence Digest," said the Soviet H-bomb was developed by Prof. Bruno Pontecorvo, who left his British atomic research post last year, and is believed to have gone to Moscow.

De Courcy, whose journal announced in August, 1949—three weeks before President Truman made a similar announcement—the Russians exploded an atom bomb, said his new information comes from persons behind the Iron Curtain who, although anti-Soviet, "have access to Russian classified material."

The editor made a speech in San Francisco last February predicting a Soviet deadline of October, 1952, for perfection of new weapons of war. At that time he linked Pontecorvo's disappearance to the Soviet timetable for war against the west. His latest announcement, he says, is based on information from the same sources.

Pontecorvo vanished last year while on leave of absence from his job at Harwell, the British government's main atomic research plant.

De Courcy issued a press statement saying the Italian-born scientist now is running the main U. S. S. R. H-bomb research center "in the extreme south of Asiatic Russia," a project set up "on the personal order of Stalin." The editor said the first successful preliminary experiment took place in March or April, 1950, and subsequently "Pontecorvo arrived with entirely new suggestions regarding the whole question of production of A-bombs as triggers for H-bombs and production of H-bombs for military purposes."

'United Europe Can Defend Itself' Italy's Premier Assures Congress

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(P)—Premier Alcide De Gasperi of Italy told Congress today a united Europe would be able to take care of its own defense.

He addressed a joint session of the Senate and House a few hours after arriving for three days of talks with President Truman, Secretary of State Dean Acheson and other top officials.

"Europe once solidly united,"

the 70-year-old premier said, "will relieve you of your sacrifices in men and arms, for she will herself contrive the defense of her peace and common freedom."

De Gasperi reaffirmed Italy's desire that Trieste be returned to Italy as recommended by the Big Three in 1948. But this does not mean, he said, that Italians "are victims of a narrow nationalism."

Rather, he explained, it was evidence of Italy's wish to consolidate our western coalition in Europe."

De Gasperi expressed appreciation for the stand taken by several members of Congress in favor of revision of the Italian peace treaty.

"As free men," he said "we wish to tell you we are grateful to you because, by demanding revision of our unfair peace treaty, you have acknowledged that an effective and staunch alliance can not exist without equality of rights and full recognition of the independence, sovereignty and dignity of a nation."

The premier said tribute to American aid to Europe.

"Without your generous contribution," he said, "Europe—at least most certainly the anti-Communist front line of continental Europe—would already have collapsed."

President and Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, and several cabinet officers met De Gasperi as his train pulled in at 8:05 A. M., EST, from Detroit, where he visited for two days.

De Gasperi's arrival here coincided with reports the United States, Britain and France are drafting a joint declaration of their plans to change the arms limitation provision in the Italian peace treaty.

The announcement is expected to climax his visit.

Mt. Vernon Gambling Raided on Weekend

MOUNT VERNON, Sept. 24.—(P)—Prosecutor Creed J. Lester said today he would seek a grand jury inquiry into gambling in Mount Vernon and Knox County.

Lester said he would ask common pleas court for the investigation this morning at a conference with Common Pleas Judge Jay McDevitt "whenever he can see me."

"I will definitely ask that the grand jury be reconvened," said the prosecutor. "It has recessed until Jan. 1 but can be called back."

Lester made his statement after 28 persons were arrested in a series of raids on 21 gambling places in Mount Vernon and Knox County. The raids lasted 11 hours over the weekend.

A citizens' committee and a Columbus private investigator collaborated in a six-week secret investigation before the raids. Sheriff Salathiel Bumpus, the prosecutor, the special investigator and two deputies led the raids.

Allies Decline To Go Back to Kaesong Again

Red Casualties
Estimated 58,000
During Stalemate

TOKYO, Sept. 24.—(P)—The United Nations command today told the Communists Kaesong is unsuitable as a site for any future Korean armistice negotiations.

Allied liaison officers gave these reasons in a note handed Red liaison officers at Kaesong:

1. Kaesong is too close to the main Red supply line, under attack by Allied warplanes.

2. Red and Allied ground forces are in constant maneuver around the five-mile Kaesong neutral zone.

3. Uncontrolled partisan groups, responsible to neither command, are active in the area and could take action at any time which would again cause a breakup of talks.

The Reds called off the talks Aug. 23, charging an Allied plane tried to "murder" the Red cease-fire delegation with a bomb the day before.

"It is regrettable," the Allies said, the Reds didn't accept the original suggestion of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, that the negotiations be held aboard the Danish hospital ship Jutulandia.

Ridgway proposed some other, more incident-proof site for the conference in a note to the Communists Sept. 6. He since has made clear he wants better working conditions established for negotiators before he agrees to resumption of the conference.

UN and Red liaison officers met in Kaesong Monday morning to set up arrangements under which talks, if resumed, could make the most rapid progress possible.

About six hours later the Reds sent the Allies a memorandum, contents of which were not disclosed by Allied headquarters.

58,000 RED CASUALTIES

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 24.—(P)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet today said his Eighth Army has killed or wounded 58,000 Communist soldiers in Korea since Aug. 18 through Sept. 22.

The report covered the entire 150-mile front.

About 80 percent of the Red losses were in the bloody "Battle of the Hills" in eastern Korea.

The figure represents almost six Red divisions.

Van Fleet said 2,800 Reds were taken prisoner in the same period.

The casualty tolls of killed or wounded have been "evaluated." That is the army's term for the final estimate after all field accounts and reports have been discounted for possible duplication or exaggeration.

Most of the Red losses were incurred after the Reds broke off the Kaesong truce talks Aug. 23.

During this period United Nations losses have been comparatively light. UN troops have smashed forward up to 15 miles and captured scores of important hills on the eastern front.

The Allies have not lost a yard of ground in either North or South Korea.

The Allied picture was not so bright in Monday's ground action. North Korean Reds launched a fierce counterattack and drove American infantrymen off the highest peak on "Heartbreak Ridge" in eastern Korea.

The Americans had gained control of the peak late Sunday night. Three doughboys -- remnants of a platoon (about 40 men) -- had stormed to the top. Reinforcements came up fast and threw back a Red charge.

But AP Correspondent Stan Carter said, "an overwhelming mass" of Reds then struck from behind a curtain of grenade explosions.

For the second time in seven days the Reds recaptured the strategic height overlooking Communist supply lines to the north.

Elsewhere on the east-central sector the Reds tapped at Allied lines in a series of stiff probing attacks. All were thrown back.

Wallace said it is not true that John Carter Vincent and Owen Latimore, who accompanied him, "guided" the report along Communist party lines. Testimony that

Ohioan Is Missing In Austria, Belief

VIENNA, Austria, Sept. 24.—(P)—U. S. Army investigating agencies and Austrian police today began a hunt for a 64-year-old Cleveland, Ohio, real estate man missing six days in Austria.

The businessman was identified by military police as Joseph Silvester, who had been visiting his nephew, Captain J. J. Kashmer, attached to an army ordnance unit in Salzburg.

Kashmer said his uncle boarded an Austrian train at Linz in the American zone of Austria Sept. 18, with plans to go through the Russian zone to the four-power city of Vienna.

Meanderings By Wash Fayette

I have been surprised at the rapidity with which the Diesel locomotives are taking the place of the steam engines on the railroads.

There is every indication that within a comparatively short time practically all steam locomotives will be replaced with the more modern Diesel equipment, just as the horse and buggy was crowded out by the automobile.

Recently, while on an extensive trip, I observed the motive power on a half dozen or more of the main railroads of the nation, and noted the great number of Diesels now in use.

In one instance, I saw four Diesel units pulling a train of more than 100 cars. Most of the thru trains are now Diesel equipped.

The Diesels have speeded up the efficiency of the railroads, and are proving much more economical than the steam engines. For one thing, the Diesels have greatly reduced the number of train employees.

Diesel units now pull two to four times the number of cars formerly forming the "drag" of steam locomotives and at much greater speed than that of the steam units.

Ex-government Employee Admits Accepting Gifts At 'Influence' Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(P)—A former government employee told today of receiving expensive gifts and borrowing $6,100 from an official of American Lithofold Corp. when that company was seeking printing contracts with the air force.

The testimony at a Senate inquiry came from Charles B. Moling, who said he left his $6,400-a-year publications job with the air force last March to become the $25,000-a-year eastern division sales manager for American Lithofold.

Moling said Lithofold, a St. Louis printing firm, obtained a number of contracts from the air force but he couldn't estimate how many or of what value. He declared he never influenced, or tried to influence, the awarding of contracts.

Moling said he received gifts including a television set, a movie camera and projector, a ham and a turkey from a Lithofold official, Robert A. Blauner.

Blauner is the son of the company's president, R. J. Blauner. The younger Blauner is now in Cuba.

The Senate investigations subcommittee is looking into charges that American Lithofold used political influence to get $565,000 in loans from the government's Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC).

The name of William M. Boyle, Jr., Democratic national chairman, has been brought into these charges. He has denied he influenced the loans.

At the outset of today's hearings, Senator Nixon (R-Calif.) demanded senators ask Boyle to submit his income tax returns for study.

Nixon told reporters later he had heard Boyle had received

Drive-ways at Hospital To Be Improved Soon

County Engineer To Draw Up Specifications

Better driving around the drive-ways in front of Memorial Hospital may be the order sometime in the near future.

This was virtually assured following action by the Board of Commissioners of Fayette County Monday morning.

The board voted to have County Engineer Charles Wagner draw up specifications for the widening of curves of drive-ways in front of the hospital.

"Hot mix" is to be applied to all the drive-ways with the exception of the Temple Street entrance.

With the application of the "hot mix" the grade of the drives should be raised and the drainage problem somewhat simplified at the institution.

Reports indicate that drivers have been going off the drive-ways and damaging the hospital lawn when making the sharp narrow turns.

In other business transacted by the commissioners, the board approved a request by Mark Gorton, representing the Christmas decorating committee of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce, for setting up a merry-go-round and a 25-foot Christmas tree on the Court House lawn. Both will be set up during the Christmas season.

During their session Monday commissioners Ralph Minton, Clifford E. Hughes and Homer Miller were served summonses notifying them that they have until Oct. 20 to answer to a suit by Clarence E. Wohleher in connection with the use of buildings on the Fayette County Fairgrounds.

Church Unity Meet

church property and choose their own ministers.

Dr. Jones calls the union of all churches a "union of diversity." A general assembly would be constituted of representatives of all branches of the churches in the United States.

Dr. Jones said this would include the Roman Catholic Church, if that church made certain changes in their beliefs.

Dr. Jones declared: "We don't shut the door to Roman Catholics."

The speaker answered two principal objections to his plan: (1) that the organization might be autocratic and (2) that the people in the union do not agree.

To the first, Dr. Jones said: "It's structure itself would keep it from being autocratic."

And to the second criticism, Dr. Jones said those who did not agree on certain beliefs would find a "common allegiance" in the union church.

The speaker said the first aim of his crusade for a united church is to obtain 1,000,000 members.

Dr. Jones said after the union of churches has been achieved then there will probably be some churches that will want to merge, but he indicated that the decision to merge will be in the hands of the church concerned.

He pointed out that he knew of 206 different denominations of churches in this country.

Devotes Time to Proposal

But the speaker said he was thankful for all the diversity and the way the various denominations emphasize certain beliefs about God.

His talk in Washington C. H. was one of the several he will give for one month during 1951 at various cities throughout the country. He was scheduled to speak in Terre Haute, Ind. Monday night and at Des Moines, Iowa Tuesday night.

For the past five years he has been telling people about the plan for a federal union of churches, but he declares: "I've tried to run away from this thing but I can't. I've said that this isn't my job. It's the job of organization leaders."

He said he was more or less drafted for the job and he devotes one month out of each year to a tour of the country telling people about the proposal. The rest of the time he is a missionary or an evangelist.

Wallace Report

they did has been taken recently by the Senate's internal security subcommittee.

Wallace's report, made public for the first time, said "there seems to be no alternative" to supporting Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, the Nationalist leader since driven out of China with his forces and now on Formosa.

But he added: "Chiang, at best, is a short-term investment. It is not believed that he has the intelligence or political strength to run postwar China. The leaders of Formosa China will be brought forward by evolution or revolution, and it now seems more likely the latter."

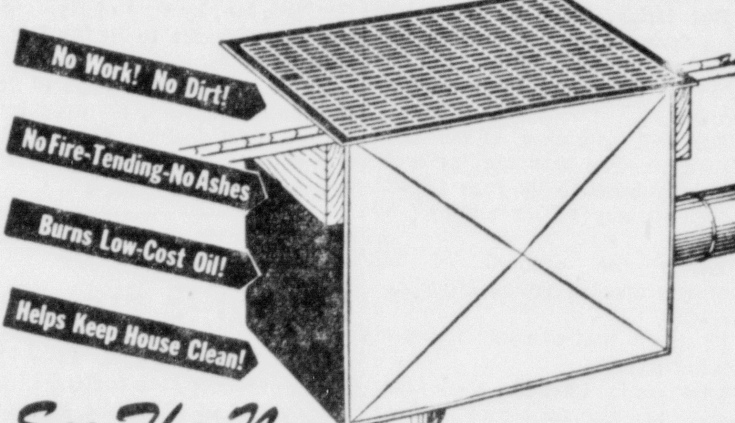

Wallace, the former vice president who ran unsuccessfully for the presidency in 1948 on the Progressive party ticket, told Mr. Truman he was writing to "clear up any confusion" as to what he tried to do in China and to dispute testimony that Vincent and Lattimore "were relied on by the (Communist) party leadership to 'guide' me along the party line."

He told Mr. Truman to use the documents in any way "which you deem will best minister to the welfare of the United States."

Good Turnout At Horse Show

Hundred Riders From Far and Near

Everybody had a lot of fun at the Western Horse Show at the Fairground here Sunday afternoon and the Washington Round-up Riders Club, which sponsored the event, made a little money to put into its treasury.

That was the way Mrs. Virgil Hardman, the club secretary, summed up the activities the following day.

All told, there were 109 horses registered for the show. While some of the participants brought more than one mount, a hasty check showed about a hundred men, women and children took part in the festivities.

Although this type of show is comparatively new to Washington C. H. -- the first one was held last year under adverse weather conditions -- it drew a crowd that was estimated at something over 1,000 paid admissions. The grandstand was a little more than three-fourths filled and it will hold about 2,200 when packed.

Riders and their horses came here from far and near to take part in the afternoon's program. They came not so much for the trophies and other prizes as for the fun they have. Mrs. Hardman said.

The secretary scanned her register and mentioned riders from Cincinnati, Columbus, Lancaster, Xenia, St. Paris, Coshocton, Orrville, Leesburg, Mt. Sterling, Hillsboro and Cambridge in Ohio. They even came from Parkersburg, W. Va., and one girl gave her address as Wilkesbarre, Ariz.

They brought their horses in small trailers for the most part, but some got together in places where there are Western Horse clubs and made the trip in bigger horse vans.

The program of 15 events just about filled the entire afternoon with thrills and laughs for the crowd as the performers went through their feats of skill and daring stunts.

There were trick and fancy riding, parades in fancy Western regalia and plenty of novelties, such as steer roping, water-carrying race (on horseback) and the steer decorating contest, in which the steer's tail is decorated with a ribbon.

A spokesman for the club said "we haven't decided what we'll do with the money yet, but we'll have a meeting soon and discuss much, because our club is new, some projects. We haven't got so we don't have to worry much about money."

Little Girl Hurt In Fall from Pony

Cheryle Martin, 7, received a fractured skull as a result of a fall from her pony last Friday evening at her home near Atlanta.

She had returned from school in the afternoon and went out to the barn yard to ride the pet.

When she recovered consciousness for a short while early Saturday morning, she said she fell off the pony then she lapsed into unconsciousness again.

Feeble cries from the child as she lay in the yard were heard by her mother, Mrs. Hoyt Martin. She rushed out and summoned her husband and son, who carried the youngster into the house.

A Clarksburg physician was called to administer first aid and to accompany Cheryle, in a Kirkpatrick and Sons ambulance of New Holland, to White Cross Hospital in Columbus.

She was reported in a serious condition Saturday.

Grain Market

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—(P)—A brisk buying movement sent prices rolling higher on the Board of Trade today, particularly in corn and soybeans. Oats also had periods of strength.

All deferred contracts of corn and oats set new seasonal highs. There was a good deal of short-covering in corn and soybeans. Wheat was inclined to lag, although the 1952 crop July delivery did relatively well.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—(AP)—You can see it now. You can sit back in your parlor and, without being even a little bit of a prophet, you can tell how it's going to be in the political campaign of 1952.

You can do it easily if you've lived through a couple of presidential campaign years and been listening to what the Democrats and Republicans have been saying in the past years.

President Truman told a news conference yesterday there are no political campaign issues for 1952 except increasing work toward peace and the general prosperity of the people.

And as if to try to knock the props from under the Republicans before they start, he said the Republicans have no issue at all and therefore have resorted to smear and misrepresentation.

Right away the Republicans fired back through the chairman of their national committee, Guy Gabrielson, who got out a three-sentence statement, replying to the president, Gabrielson said:

"The people know the issues. Under the Truman administration they have corruption, inflation, high taxes, and war. If Mr. Truman wants to shut his eyes and pretend they don't exist, let him enjoy the dream while it lasts."

So there, if you didn't know it already, you have from the Republicans some of the things they'll be talking about. Which means the Democrats will have to talk about them, too.

Sitting in your parlor, trying to predict the campaign oratory, you could add a few more items: Employment, personal income and business profits, the Marshall Plan, the Atlantic Pact, dealings with China, and the way we've handled Russia.

"If General Eisenhower is the Republican candidate, since he's never done much political talking, if any; and if by campaign time we're in war with Russia or, by a miracle, have established firm peace."

Know what the two sides have been saying already, here's a sample of what to expect if the ifs don't get mixed up in the campaign.

Democrats--In spite of high taxes, made necessary to arm and stop Communism, employment is at a peak and the people have high income and corporations have greater profits than at any time in history, all under the Democrats.

Republicans--High employment and income and profits might not be so high if the pump wasn't primed by the arms race. If it wasn't for this artificial stimulation the country would be in sad shape. Taxes wouldn't be so high if the Democrats hadn't been so free and easy with government money. And the smell from the RFC investigation: That mink coat in the White House and White House aides getting free hotel rooms. The Democrats are trying to lead us down the road to socialism and snuff out free enterprise. They're trying to turn this into a welfare state. They tried to do it by "socializing" medicine.

Democrats--If there's been any wrongdoing, prove it. Don't sneer.

War Materials Sufficient for Year's Conflict

Defense Production Piles Up Weapons For Any Emergency

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24—(AP)—The nation's defense production chief said today the U. S. has the capacity to pour out 30,000 tanks and 50,000 planes a year—plus strategic stockpiles "to carry us through a year of total war."

Manly Fleischmann, defense production administrator, said in an address prepared for delivery at the 70th AFL convention:

Stockpiles of strategic materials needed to carry through a year of all-out conflict would be available even though the U. S. is cut off temporarily from all foreign sources.

For example, steel capacity will be up 18 million tons over the output before the Korean war. There now is a 90 percent increase in primary aluminum capacity, with proportionate increases in electric power "and the other things we need."

Fleischmann said the nation is threatened by a "shrewd, veteran back-alley fighter" who would use "every dirty trick in the book—military, political and economic."

"Since the Soviet threat may be with us for a considerable period, and since one of its goals is to at compulsory health insurance. The people need it. That heading for "socialism" charge is a phony and the fact that free enterprise was never doing better if the proof. This country halted the march of Communism through the far-sightedness of its Democratic leaders who are responsible for the Marshall Plan and the Atlantic Pact which is ringing Russia with steel. And where would we be today, and how much progress would Communism have made, if we had listened to those Republican leaders who wanted to whittle down the Marshall Plan, opposed the Atlantic Pact and arms for Europe and, in short, were willing to let Communism gobble up the rest of the world by isolating us?

Republicans--That charge of isolationism is a phony. Some of our leaders wanted to conserve American strength, instead of spreading it thin around the world, by making America invincible first. The Democrats waited to see the real menace of Communism. Mr. Truman denounces Communism now but only short time ago, was calling Stalin "good old Joe."

If we had been far-sighted, we'd never have let the Communists take over Asia.

Russia's Taking Ways Disturb Yugoslavia

BELGRADE—(AP)—The Yugoslavs claim that the Russians have "taking ways". The Soviet penchant for acquiring other people's property was lampooned here recently in a cartoon in one of the Yugoslav humorist publications.

It showed a swimmer emerging stark-naked from the ocean surf to be met on the beach by an astonished friend. "Why, comrade," inquired the friend, "what has happened? You are naked. Where is your bathing suit?"

"It was stolen," replied the swimmer. "The Hottentots took it from me."

"The Hottentots," exclaimed the friend, "but there are no Hottentots here."

"Quiet," shushed the swimmer, "the Russians may hear you."

Steel Industry On Carpet Again

Production Boost Urged by Uncle Sam

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—(AP)—The steel industry is on the carpet again. Washington wants it to build new steel mills faster and thus shorten the period of steel shortages plaguing the defense program and civilian industry.

This demand that the steel industry complete its huge expansion program six months earlier than it planned follows by a few days an order by the Defense Production Administration. This order cut almost in half the amount of structural steel the steel industry had asked for the next three months.

The steel companies wanted to be allowed to use this structural steel to build new steel mills to keep their expansion program on schedule and thus be able to turn out more steel for defense and civilian goods.

Washington's demand on the steel industry to speed up and produce one million extra tons the first three months of 1952 also follows by a few days a British request that American steel mills be directed to send Britain 800,000 tons of steel.

Shortage Is Serious The government is deadly serious about its worry over the shortage in steel. It wants new steel mills, and it wants steel scrap collections stepped up everywhere—in the factory, on the farm, and there has even been talk of urging housewives to save tin cans (which are mostly steel) to help make up a scrap shortage which the industry calls critical.

The steel shortage is such the government has cut back the amount that can be used to build pipelines for oil and gas, to build freight cars, to build autos and other civilian goods, to build highway bridges, to build school-houses. To save alloy steel and scarce aluminum the government is setting a limit to the making of automatic transmissions for the family auto.

The government has some charges to throw at the steel industry, too. Defense Mobilizer Wilson charges some steelmen are planning to cut back production the first part of next year by several hundred thousand tons while they reline furnaces and overhaul equipment. He's calling steelmen to Washington next week to tell them they cannot cutback but must speed-up instead.

The steel industry is now producing at the annual rate of 105 million tons. Its expansion plans call for capacity to reach 110 million tons by the first of 1952 and 118 million tons by the end of 1952. Wilson will ask them to hit the 118 million ton rate by next June.

Short Circuit Is Shorted by Safety Gadget

By EDWARD S. KITCH

CHICAGO—Fire prevention Fire Fighter Clarence Curtis is more than a couple of words. He's done something about it.

He invented and patented an electric adapter plug that can be fitted with low amperage fuses. Its purpose is to prevent fires caused by electrical short circuits. The gadget now is being marketed.

Curtis' fuse coupling device plugs into the wall outlet. It is called a "fireguard" and can be fused to hold up to 15 amperes of electric current. But he favors lower amperage fusing to catch short circuits before they have a chance to smolder or flash into flames.

Inventor Curtis, 59, is a member of the Lombard, Ill., fire department, and a development engineer with a Chicago manufacturing company. He figured there was one main reason for most electrically caused fires—extension or lamp cords. The main line of a house circuit usually is fused with 30 ampere fuses. Each branch line to various areas of a home usually is protected by 15 ampere fuses. In the early days of electricity in the home, six ampere fuses were used.

Curtis reasoned that adapters for wall outlets could be fused with low amperage fuses. It would serve as a first line of defense against short circuits and most of the fire danger would be eliminated.

Curtis said overloading of branch line electrical circuits is practiced in homes, offices, farm buildings and factories alike. The tendency is to install fuses that can withstand the extra load. Consequently, when a short develops or an appliance motor burns, the safety valve fuse is cheated of its duty.

He uses this rule to figure how much fusing protection is necessary for the average wall outlet hookup: One ampere protects each 100 watts of load. So if you have two 25-watt bed lamps, two 40-watt dresser lamps and a 75-watt radio in a bedroom all you'd need would be a two ampere fuse.

Pushbutton Warfare Will Be Costly for U. S.

Shortly after the air force disclosed that it is forming a combat unit to use its new guided missiles, President Truman made it clear that this pilotless bomber is one of the "fantastic" new weapons he referred to in his speech at San Francisco. Whether there are more secrets of the same sort in the bag, nobody has as yet disclosed.

But a weapon which carries man to the threshold of pushbutton warfare is fantastic enough. It also explains why the Mother or Dad: Which?

Old Doc Gallup has turned his attention from presidential possibilities and international affairs to conduct a poll on family life. He was trying to ascertain which parent had the more influence on a growing child, as viewed in later life. The question was direct:

"Looking back on the time when you were growing up which of your parents would you say had the greater influence on your life—your mother or your father?"

Of course, mother got the verdict, by a vote of two-to-one by both sexes. Father was a poor second, receiving only about one-fifth of those responding gave the real answer when they declared both parents were equal in exerting influence on their young lives.

Those are the successful households. When there is understanding and cooperation among parents in the rearing of a family many pitfalls are avoided. Every child is entitled to the love and understanding of its parents. Denied this heritage, a child faces the world under a handicap which can bring unhappiness and often frustration.

Problem of American Mothers

NEW YORK —(P)— Every American mother today has a terrible problem.

It is this:
"Shall I raise my boy to be honest? Or shall I just raise him honestly -- and let him scratch out of life what he can?"

If she rears him to be honest she teaches him life as it ought to be. If she raises him honestly, she gives him a rough-and-ready approach to the world as it actually is.

This puts mama in a straight-jacket choice. Does she want her lad clad in the armor of purity (always shabby at the cuffs), or does she prefer him in the latest snazzy, custom-made, tomato-proof three-button racetrack special suit?

Would she have her boy poor but honest and making out as best he can, or have him honestly trying to make all he can?

In the old days mothers didn't have this choice. They were as rigorously sure of the triumph of virtue as Horatio Alger ever dared to dream.

Senate was willing to add nearly $5,000,000 to the appropriation for the air force.

This development, which promises to revolutionize warfare in combination with the atomic bomb, is certain to be an extremely costly one. The modern military plane is the most expensive vehicle ever devised by man. The new guided missile, which must carry an extremely complex mechanism to take over all the functions of a pilot, will hardly prove less expensive to build. Moreover, it will be consumed entirely in a single, one-way flight.

The factor that makes this project desirable is that the guided missile promises to be as economical in manpower as it is prodigal in money and materials. When pilotless planes become capable of carrying their atomic bombloads accurately to designated targets there should be no need for the type of mass bombing raids which often proved so costly in highly trained manpower during World War II.

There is no indication in the brief air force announcement whether that day has actually arrived. Innumerable problems must be solved before guided missiles can take over a major part of the air force's assignment. But the solution to many of them may be in sight if the nation has progressed from the strictly experimental into the combat unit stage.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Periodic attacks of excruciating headache on one side of the head, preceded by flashes of light before the eyes and accompanied by nausea and vomiting, add up to the condition known as migraine, one of the most perplexing of all medical puzzles.

Dozens of theories have been advanced to explain its peculiar behavior, but evidence is lacking to support many of them and none has led to a completely successful treatment. Experts of more than 70 years ago believed migraine to be due to spasm of the blood vessels in the brain and even today, this theory is still favored by some.

Other Theories

Our constantly expanding knowledge of allergy has led to the idea that migraine may be due to over-sensitivity, and it is also suggested that some disturbance of the glands of internal secretion may play a role in producing this disease. Vitamin deficiencies have also been proposed as a cause.

Sometimes a thorough examination will reveal the source of the trouble in the individual case, and here treatment can be directed at preventing the recurrent bouts of headache altogether.

In the vast majority of cases, however, no definite cause can be found; hence, treatment can only be useful in stopping the attack as soon as possible after it develops.

Helpful Preparation

For this purpose, the most helpful preparation seems to be one known as ergotamine tartrate. Drugs which dilate the blood vessels, and simple pain-relieving drugs do not seem to be of much value.

In using the ergotamine, it is important that it be given in sufficient dosage as early in the course of an attack as possible.

A derivative of ergotamine, known as dihydroergotamine methanesulfonate or D.H.D.-43, has also been employed with good results in migraine attacks.

Combined Treatments

A more recent treatment consists of the giving of a combination of ergotamine tartrate with caffeine by mouth, or by giving it combined with atropine in a suppository which is administered through the rectum. It has been found that either of these treatments has been more effective in relieving the migraine than the ergotamine alone.

During an attack, the patient should be put at complete rest in bed, preferably in a darkened room.

The drugs mentioned above

should, of course, be administered under the direction of a physician.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

T. C.: My sister has an abscess in her rectum, which is very painful. It is red and swollen, disappears for a while and then starts up again. What can be done?

Answer: It is possible that your sister has what is known as a rectal fistula. This condition is best corrected by surgery.

New Machine Gives Babies Better Start

CINCINNATI—Physicians here are trying out a new machine intended to relieve babies born with their air passages blocked by fluids and secretions.

It is known as the "bloxom oxygen-air pressure lock."

It has proved especially helpful in the cases of prematurely born babies, said the physicians who explained it. He declined use of his name.

The lock is kept at Good Samaritan Hospital.

The physicians explained its functions as follows:
The lock obviates the use of instrumentation (insertion of a tube in the trachea) to clear the air passages which have become blocked by secretions of fluids arriving from within the body of the infant or from the mother.

The baby is placed in the new air pressure lock under an atmosphere of 60 percent oxygen and air and under a pressure of one to three pounds.

At the beginning the air is cycled from one to three pounds and this fluctuation in pressure forces the blocking fluids or secretions from the nose and mouth.

The air pressure lock, says the doctor, has the decided advantage over the instrumental method in that it provides increased absorption of oxygen through the skin, which prevents marked anoxia (lack of oxygen.)

Jungle Inn Casino Is Saved by Ruling

COLUMBUS, Sept. 24.—(P)— State officials today pondered their next move in a drive to have the Jungle Inn gambling casino in Trumbull County torn down as a fire hazard.

The second district court of appeals yesterday let stand a lower court decision blocking the tear-down order.

The Jungle Inn has not been operated since a raid two years ago. After the raid, State Fire Marshal Harry J. Callan condemned the building.

Trumbull County common pleas court blocked the tear-down order when they did not question Callan's right to issue the order.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche used Jungle Inn as one of four targets in his campaign against gambling.

Fugitives Caught In Hail of Bullets

CLEVELAND, Sept. 24.—(P)— In a 75-mile-an-hour chase through Cleveland streets, police fired 12 shots early today and finally captured three escaped burglars from Mansfield reformatory in a stolen car.

One bullet whizzed through the right ear of Roy Sims, Jr., 23, of Dayton, creasing his face but not seriously injuring him. The other two convicts were identified as Wesley Frederick, 20, of Cleveland, and Roscoe Fischer, 23, of Olive Road, Dayton.

The Case of John Carter Vincent

The object of a congressional committee is to get at the facts. Such a committee is not a court of law. To be subpoenaed by it is not an indication of guilt or even participation in wrongdoing. The assumption is that the witness possesses valuable information.

However, the witness is under oath and can be prosecuted for perjury.

Joseph Alsop's charge that Louis Budenz testified falsely concerning John Carter Vincent, a State Department official, involves a charge of perjury. Concerning Henry Wallace's visit to China in 1944, Budenz testified before the McCarran committee.

... in those discussions (before the American politico) it was pointed out that Mr. Wallace was more or less under good influences from the Communist viewpoint, that is to say, that he had on one hand Mr. Lattimore, and on the other John Carter Vincent, both of whom were described as being in line with the Communist viewpoint, seeing eye to eye with it, and that they would guide Mr. Wallace largely along those paths." Budenz was then an important person in the American Communist party. He is, to repeat now testifying under oath about matters which he is presumed to know. Thus far, his testimony in courts of law has stood up, bringing convictions. Neither Joseph Alsop nor I have ever been similarly placed to have equal knowledge concerning such matters. Therefore, the burden of proof that Budenz has perjured himself in giving this evidence is up to Alsop or the attorney general of the United States.

Alsop, in effect, acknowledges his responsibility by analyzing Budenz's evidence to find the untruthful flaw. It shows that Wallace's report to Roosevelt was anti-Communist and had it been acted upon it would actually have saved Chiang Kai-Shek. He says: "In short, the whole wretched China story shows no clearer, more decisive anti-Communist act than this Wallace report in which John Carter Vincent participated and concurred."

The question then arises, did John Carter Vincent participate and concur in this report? If he did, then any accusation that Vincent guided Wallace along Communist party lines is untrue and Budenz's testimony falls. If not, the question of Vincent's political position cannot be established by this data.

As evidence against Alsop is a letter from John Carter Vincent to Alfred Kohlberg; a paragraph from a letter that Kohlberg wrote to Alsop. Both are appended herewith:

"Bern, Switzerland
October 11, 1949

"Dear Mr. Kohlberg:
"I have received your letter of August 25 making inquiry with regard to the existence of a report made by former Vice-president Wallace on his trip to China in 1944.

"Whether or not Mr. Wallace made a written report on his trip to the president, I do not know; if he did, he never showed it to me. He made an oral report to the president, I know, and also to Secretary Hull. I accompanied him on the latter call but not on the former, and he never discussed the trip with me after our return.

"I do not know what paper Ambassador Hurley has in mind but I should think it was a condensation of the rather copious notes I took on Mr. Wallace's talk with Chiang Kai-Shek which have now appeared in the White Paper...

Sincerely yours,
John Carter Vincent
American Minister"

In the Kohlberg letter to Alsop appears the following:

"Under date of April 18, 1947, Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson wrote Senator George referring to a charge that Mr. Vincent had assisted in the preparation of the Wallace report, as follows:

SOME HUMANS wind up wearing stripes, but this baby zebra arrived in the world that way "Girle" is making debut with her mother, an African zebra who arrived in Philadelphia zoo in 1947. (International)

"Heart of My Heart," by Tschalkowsky, "Hark To The Song of the Night" from the opera "Out of This World" by Cole Porter and "Voice of the Wilderness" by Pringle Scott.

The guests were confined to families and close friends of the students who greatly enjoyed their songs.

Later refreshments were served from a table covered with a handmade fillet lace cloth with a central adornment of huge pastel colored dahlias with silver service. Mrs. Kenneth Campbell served the "Southern Plantation" tea and Mrs. Jean Lampe Warner also assisted at the tea table.

Baked ice cream pie makes a luscious dessert. To prepare fill a crisp-baked pie shell with about three cups of sliced fruit; cover with one and one half pints very stiff vanilla ice cream; top the ice cream with a stiff meringue made by beating six tablespoons of sugar gradually into three stiffly beaten egg whites, being sure the meringue touches the crust edge at all points. Brown meringue quickly in a very hot oven (450F.) about three minutes.

Indians Hit Skids
With Three Defeats

By JOE REICHLER
(By The Associated Press)
New York's onrushing Yankees and Brooklyn's back-peddaling Dodgers are all but mathematical-ly certain to meet, for the fourth time in 21 years, in baseball's top classic, the World Series.

Both came closer to clinching their respective championships yesterday. The Yankees increased their American League lead over Cleveland to two and a half games beating the Red Sox in the rubber game in Boston, 6-1. The revenge-minded Tigers meanwhile thumped the Indians for the third straight time in Detroit 9-1.

The Dodgers snapped a two-game losing streak with a 6-2 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies and retained their three-game National League lead over the hard-pressing New York Giants. The Polo Grounders, fighting a seemingly losing battle, again whipped the Boston Braves, 4-1.

THE MAGIC NUMBER is now three for the Yankees and four for the Dodgers. The Yankees, with a four-game bulge on the important losing side over the Indians and third place Red Sox, need win only three of their remaining six to wrap up the flag, even if Cleveland wins its final three and Boston its final games. Two Yankee victories insure at least a tie.

Any combination of four Dodger victories or Giant defeats brings the pennant to Brooklyn. If the Dodgers capture four of their last seven games, the Giants can win all their remaining five and still wind up also-rans.

Vic Raschi became the fifth American League pitcher, and the 11th in the majors, to win 20 games with an eight-hitter over the Red Sox. It was his third straight 20-game winning season.

Not since 1928 have the majors boasted as many as 11 in this charmed circle. The record number of 20-game winners was 17 in 1903, 1905 and 1920. The National League high of nine was set in 1901 and duplicated in 1903 and 1914.

A single by pinch hitter Johnny Mize in the seventh drove in the tally that broke a 1-1 tie and paved the way for a three-run Yankee inning.

VIRGIL TRUCKS climaxed a lost weekend for Cleveland, pitching the Tigers to their third straight win over the faltering Indians. The three victories atoned for the 16 Cleveland victories in 17 previous games with Detroit.

Murray Dickson won his 20th game for the Pittsburgh Pirates who swapped shutouts with Cincinnati. Dickson won the opener, 3-0 with a five-hitter. Howie Fox pitched the Reds to a second game 2-0 win.

Tom Poholsky and Gerry Staley pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 9-3 and 5-2 double win over the Chicago Cubs before 18,013 fans who pushed the Redbirds' home attendance over the million mark for the sixth consecutive year.

Philadelphia's Athletics won their 13th doubleheader, top in the majors, with a 12-4 and 5-3 sweep over the Washington Senators. Gus Zernial regained the RBI leadership from Ted Williams, 127 to 126 by driving in three mates.

A six-run seventh gave the St. Louis Browns an 8-7 victory over the Chicago White Sox in a wild affair in which 37 players saw action, 19 of them Browns.

Mother's Putter Wins for Turnesa

READING, Pa., Sept. 24 —(P)—Jim Turnesa tossed away a mallet head putter for his mother's old blade putter and the results paid off. He's $2,400 richer today.

Turnesa, one of six brothers of golf's most famous family, won the fifth annual $15,000 Reading open golf tournament yesterday with a 72-hole total of 280, four under par. The old putter worked like a charm.

Jack Burke, the blonde youngster from Houston, Tex., finished runnerup, three strokes behind and $600 less.

Giant Hurler's Family Increased to Seven

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 24—(P)—Mrs. Larry Jansen, wife of the star righthander of the New York Giants, gave birth to a boy—their seventh child—last Saturday only a couple of hours after her husband had beaten the Boston Braves for his 20th victory of the season.

THOUGH YOGI BERRA, Yankee catcher, has to take to the air he manages to tag out Boston's Ted Williams at home plate during first game of American league pennant race's "showdown" series in Fenway Park. The New Yorkers won, 6-1.

Lions Face Acid Test Friday Night when They Meet Cincinnati Team

There will be no rest for the Lion gridders of WHS this week although they have won their first two games of the season by comparatively sizeable scores.

For, Coach Fred Pierson said he and his assistant, Curt Koons, had plans for getting them ready for what he called "their first acid test."

That test will be against the boys from Cincinnati Woodward High School at Gardner Park here Friday night.

The Lions shut out Linden-McKinley's Panthers in the opener at Columbus by a score of 41 to 0, and then last Friday night in their first home game, they handed a tough home from Jackson a 33 to 6 setback.

The Woodward team won their opener, 28 to 19, against the mighty Portsmouth Trojans, but last Friday night they met an up-set defeat when Cincinnati Central Vocational came through with two touchdowns in the last six minutes to win 21 to 12.

Their last game was played Friday afternoon and Friday night

Flying Horsemen Get to Races Now

NEW YORK—Flying horsemen are no novelty on harness racing's Grand Circuit this season. A number of top notch reinsmen, most of them racing under the arcs in the East, have made weekly aerial pilgrimages to the mid-west to race in major colt stakes.

One of the leading airline patrons is Johnny Simpson, 31-year-old South Carolina driver, who has the biggest stable in the country. Simpson is racing a trip of Grand Circuit stables and flies out each week to drive them. They include the season's top 2-year-old trotter, Duke of Lullwater; Kimberly Mine, another good juvenile trotter; and Silent Waters, a 2-year-old pacing filly.

Another of the airlift brigade is little Joe O'Brien who commutes regularly to handle Golden Broom and Vonian Chief.

Young Jap Pitcher Killed by Drive

TOKYO, Sept. 24 —(P)—A 15-year-old pitcher for Kizu High School in Kyoto, fatally injured by a line drive, tossed out the batter before dying. Kyoto News Agency reported today.

Kenichi Okubo put one across the plate in the second inning that the young batter—name and age withheld by authorities -- found to his liking and smashed back to the pitcher's box.

The ball struck Okubo in the pit of the stomach, but he picked it up from the ground and tossed it to first base, beating the runner and ending the inning.

Then Okubo fell to the ground dead.

Title by Decision Would Satisfy Pep

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 24—(P)—Willie Pep will be perfectly satisfied if he regains his featherweight boxing title by a decision when he meets champion Sandy Saddler at the Polo Grounds Wednesday night.

"I have trained to go 15 rounds," Pep said today. "Naturally if the opportunity presents itself I will try to win by a knockout. But I will be satisfied to have the referee lift my hand as the winner after 15 rounds."

Some Hot Games Set for Weekend

OSU-SMU Clash
Tops Schedule

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Sept. 24 —(P)—A 23-game schedule—with some hot-shot opposition on tap—faces Ohio's college gridders this weekend.

Southern Methodist's attempt to smear Ohio State in a second straight opener headlines the program, but Buckeye hopes took an upward surge Saturday when the Mustangs dropped a 21-7 verdict to Georgia Tech.

However, Fred Benners pitched a touchdown pass for the Texas crew to prove his arm is in shape. He tossed four six-pointers against Ohio a year ago to provide one of the season's largest upsets.

A dozen of this week's games are against out-of-state opponents, and the Ohioans have fared well so far in interstate play by winning 10 and losing four. All four losses came on foreign grid-irons, the Ohioans sweeping five invaders from the home fields.

SOME OF THE UNDEFEATED teams are certain to fall this week. Among the big games are those between Miami's Redskins and the Bowling Green Falcons at Oxford; Xavier vs the Camp Lejeune Marines—the club which upset Youngstown 19-6 Saturday, and Tulsa vs Cincinnati.

Miami, defending mid-American conference champ, won its opener for new head coach Ara Parseghian by 21-13 over Wichita; Bowling Green scored in every period for a 23-13 win over Ohio Wesleyan, and Cincinnati racked up its second straight, 34-0 over Kansas State.

In addition to Ohio State, schools opening their season this week include Marietta, Mount Union, Oberlin, Muskingum, Baldwin, and Cincinnati.

Bunts Wreck Indian Hopes

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 —(P)—The Cleveland Indians ruefully suspected today they have been bunted out of the bunting.

Seldom has the squeeze play been used with such devastating effect as against the Indians in the American League stretch drive. They have lost four recent crucial games because of opponents' bunts.

In two of the three losses inflicted by the Tigers in their disastrous Detroit series last weekend, the bunt led to the Indians' downfall.

A further factor was the relative ineffectiveness of three of the Indians' "Big Four" hurlers—Bob Feller, Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia, and Early Wynn. Feller, Lemon and Garcia—winners of 59 games between them—were shelled from the box in games which they started. It was their work, plus Wynn's, that had been keeping the Tribe in the race. Wynn did not appear in the series.

Yesterday, the Bengals belted the Indians 9-1 to put the Tribe two and a half games behind the first place New York Yankees. On Saturday, the Tigers jolted Cleveland, 9-4. Yet, as one-sided as these scores seem, bunts which had the Tribe infield doing belly-flops and making like statues were the key taps.

win Wallace, Defiance, Capital, Western Reserve and Denison.

Thursday night: John Carroll at Youngstown.

Friday night: Bethany at Marietta, Mount Union at Kent State, Heidelberg at Hillsdale.

Indian Fans Change Tune

CLEVELAND, Sept. 24—(P)—The switchboard tune in the Cleveland Indians' office has changed. Instead of "When do I get my world series tickets," it's now "When do I get my dough back?"

The Tribe's third straight loss to Detroit brought a sudden halt to inquiries about tickets. Most of the callers yesterday put in a few caustic remarks about the Tribe's crackup and then asked when they could expect the checks or money orders they sent in for tickets.

"We can't start to refund the money yet," Nate Dolin, director of stadium operations for the club, explained. "We've got to wait until the race is mathematically settled."

The number of applications received for full sets of tickets now is about 35,000.

Shriners Win Again From Irish Golfers

The Shrine club's golf team today held its second victory of the season over the team representing St. Colman's Church.

In Sunday afternoon's match over the rain-greened fairways of the Country Club course, the Shriners squeaked through to a 17½ to 14½ win over the Irish.

John Bailey paced the Shriners, scoring with a clean sweep for 4 points with a nine-hole round of 50.

Max Lawrence, E. Tannehill and Dr. I. L. Humphrey turned in the low Shrine scores with cards of 44 each.

Bob Cullen and Bud Schlue went best for the St. Colman team. They each scored 3½ points and matched the low scores of the Shriners with 44s.

Each member of the winning team received a golf ball, but that was unimportant compared to the fun the members of both teams had.

The summaries:

Communist Ban Up to Australians

SYDNEY, Sept. 24—(AP)—The Australian people will decide in a nation-wide referendum Saturday (Sept. 22) whether they want the Australian Communist party and all its subsidiaries outlawed or not.

They will vote "yes" if they are in favor of having the constitution altered so as to give the Menzies government power to ban the Communists, or "no" if they are against it.

That seems simple enough. But why has there got to be a referendum? The answer to the question is not so simple.

You see, Australia has six state parliaments and a federal parliament which sits in Canberra, the federal capital. The six state parliaments sit in the capitals of New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, South Australia, Western Australia and Tasmania. Australia's seventh state, the northern territory, has no parliament of its own.

The Australian constitution vests certain powers with the state governments and certain powers with the federal government.

At the last Australian-wide, or federal, election on April 28, 1951, the Australian people reelected the coalition government of R. G. Menzies's Liberal party and Sir Arthur Fadden's Country party. This government was first elected December 10, 1949, on an anti-Communist platform. It promised to dissolve the Communist party and remove Communist agents from executive posts in key units.

The Menzies government, seeking to give effect to its mandate, introduced the Communist party dissolution bill which, after amendment, passed both federal Houses and became law in October, 1950.

Several Communist-led trade unions challenged the constitutionality of the anti-Red act. The Australian high court found last March that the federal parliament lacked the constitutional power to implement the measure.

Powers to do so are vested with the states. But the states, some of which have labor governments, refused Menzies's subsequent request to "refer" their powers to the federal parliament.

In the event of a deadlock of this kind, the constitution itself provides a remedy. That is the holding of a referendum to find out whether the people think the constitution should be altered.

The government Liberal and Country parties are plugging the "yes" case in the press, on the air and in public speeches.

The opposition Labor party, now led by former UN General Assembly President Dr. H. V. Evatt, is publicizing the "no" case in the same way.

The government parties argue: "Communist activity in Australia has become a grave menace to industrial peace, to production, to national security, a friend of inflation and disorder and an enemy to defense."

"It is foreign, pernicious and insidious. Unless Australia meets and defeats its conspiracy in the next year or two Australians may be in a defensive war, inadequately prepared and with insufficient resources."

"The deadly danger of war and the actual operations of war in such places as Korea, Indochina and Malaya, in which fellow Australians are sustaining casualties, are all creations of Communist imperialism."

"Aggressive Communism follows the same technique all over the world. This explains why Australian Communist leaders have worked their way into positions of leadership in key trade unions such as coal mining, shipping, waterside work, ironworking and transport."

The government invites voters to put down two questions and answer them not as party supporters but as Australians. They are:

"Do you think some special law against Communists needs to be made?"

"If 'yes' do you feel satisfied that state parliaments can all be relied upon to make such a special law?"

The nation's leading chemists claim there's a career world a-coming . . . and as far as we're concerned, it can commence any time. The cheerful tube manipulators predict cures for the common cold and polio, rocket trips to the moon, and rain control that guarantees waterproof picnics. Foods will be built up synthetically and proteins and fats will be made from sea plants. Treated sawdust will make prime cattle feed. (We suppose they'll paint it green to keep the cows contented). All this, and more, is slated to happen within 75 years. So stick around, it might be fun.

The "Brown Jug" is past history. It was a great race. We were all rooting for Floating Dream, and when I say all, I mean about half the people in Fayette County.

The Jackson football team went home with the short end of the score. The home team really looked good, a few too many penalties though. Both bands were wonderful at the half. But of course, WCH was the best. I think our band and our team learn some of the finest lessons in citizenship while taking part in these school activities.

A young bull elephant that was being sent to Pres. Truman by the King of Cambodia dropped dead in So. Africa. Maybe the king should have sent a Democratic donkey.

If your car doesn't stop dead in its tracks when you put on the brakes, it's time to have 'em checked and serviced. In fact . . . it's time to have your whole car checked for fall driving. Our experts will do the job right at R. BRANDENBURG MOTOR SALES, INC., 524 Clinton Ave. Phone: 2575.

Minors Can't Watch Television in Bars

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 24—(AP)—The State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board has ruled that minors can't view television in bars.

The decision overrules an interpretation of a state ABC regulation given by A. J. Bartholomew, Louisville's ABC administrator.

Bartholomew had thought it all right for minors to watch TV in a reputable place if accompanied by their parents and the hour was reasonable.

Gals Like Sailors

CHARLOTTETOWN, Canada—(AP)—Girls certainly love a sailor claims Lt. Cliff Court of nearby Bedford. The harassed operations officer said in one hour last week he answered 65 telephone calls--all from girls requesting ship information.

Firemen Answer Series of Calls

Two Runs Are Made Into the Country

Three fire alarms were answered by the city firemen over the week end. Two of the alarms, one an inhalator call, were from outside Washington C. H.

At 10:50 P. M. Saturday, a fire in a kerosene stove in the Walter Tuvel home on the Jonesboro Road, got out of control. A fire extinguisher, used by Mrs. Tuvel, had the fire practically extinguished when firemen reached the house. Damage was light.

Sunday at 5:10 P. M., an inhalator run was made to the Harold Glass home on the Marchant and Luttrell Road, where Mrs. Glass suffered a heart attack. A physician had arrived and administered a heart stimulant before the inhalator reached the home.

A third run was at 9:30 P. M. Sunday when an overheated brake set fire to the tire of a car owned by Marion Jones of Washington C. H. which was on Washington Avenue near the cemetery. The fire was extinguished after damage of some $50 had been caused.

Observers point out David Greenglass, now serving a 15-year term for giving atom secrets to Russia, worked at Los Alamos in 1945-46. Dr. Klaus Fuchs, convicted by an English court on a similar charge, worked there in 1943.

Was the uranium stolen? The AEC prefers the word "taken." If stolen, who took it? The FBI is investigating.

The AEC places the age of the pieces at seven or eight years. That would make them current about the time when the army's Manhattan project was developing the first atomic bomb at Los Alamos.

King Operated on

The Duke of Windsor, whose abdication in 1936 made George king, hurried to London from Paris.

There was still no change, however, in the plans of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh to leave next week for Canada.

The 55-year-old king spent the critical night under the watchful eyes of doctors and nurses. Watchers were understood to include five of the eight doctors who took part in the two-hour operation yesterday morning.

Lung resection is the term used for surgical removal of the whole lung or part of it. It has not been indicated how extensive the operation was or which lung was affected.

Medical authorities are in general agreement that the first four or five days after the operation are the crucial period.

Youth from Here Member of Marauding Patrol in Korea

Pvt. John E. Detty, son of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Detty of 426 East Sixth Street, Washington C. H., is a member of a night marauding patrol that has been highly troublesome to the Communists deep in the Chinese-held territory.

The unit's objectives are to harass the enemy and secure prisoners for combat information. It has learned its trade so well that the men have come close enough to watch the Chinese eating. However, no invitations for dinner have been forthcoming from the Chinese.

Armed with automatic weapons, the raider patrol, which is formed on a volunteer basis, has the tremendous fire power of 2,000 rounds per minute. This fire superiority has scared away numerically superior Communist forces in several fights.

These units, of the 1st Cavalry

Division's 7th Regiment, are composed of nine men and operate like a ranger team, quietly, swiftly and deadly. Since they work at night, the men don't helmets or carry anything that might make noise. Even their "dogtags" are cushioned in special rubber rings.

Thomas Webb, Washington C. H., was picked up on a disorderly conduct, and a $50 bond was posted.

Lucian Cooley, 44, Camden, was listed for reckless operation and Florence D. Foster, Mt. Sterling, was listed for improper operation of an automobile. Bond of $25 was left.

New Electric Power

(Continued from Page One) has been one of the driest summers in the history of the area. And not enough rain has fallen to swell the Columbia River -- which with its huge hydro-electric generators is the source of much of the Pacific northwest's power supply.

Rep. Hugh Mitchell (R-Wash.) said a delay in building additional generating facilities also was responsible.

What can be done to ease the situation?

Among suggested solutions is a "brownout" of the Pacific northwest, calling for outdoor lighting and advertising signs to be shut off, the power saved then to go to the aluminum industry. Joseph H. Gumz, region DEPA director, said a brownout may be ordered within two weeks.

Slippery Pavement Cause of Accident

Wet pavement and a curve, six miles east of Washington C. H. on the New Holland Road was the cause of a mishap involving one car and the front end of the Ferris Store, located on the curve, about noon Saturday.

Rollin E. Shaw, 19, of Coshoc-ton, driver of the car, started sliding on the rain covered curve as he was driving toward Washington C. H. The car left the pavement and skidded into a gas pump and the roof support at the front of the store.

Mrs. Shaw and her 11-week-old baby, passengers in the car, were taken to Memorial Hospital by a Gerstner ambulance for a check-up.

The state patrol checked the accident.
